BAY VIEW.

Special Correspondence of The Sunday Republic Special Correspondence of The Sunday Republic.

Bay View, Mich., Aug. 3.—Bay View is unique among Michigan resorts. Selected twenty years ago to be the home of the Michigan Camp Ground Association, it has always retained in large measure the intellectual flavor of the progressive Methodistic society which founded it. Then a terrace of wooded hills, now it is a summer city of ten thousand inhabitants, with well-graded streets, waterworks, electric lights. graded streets, waterworks, electric lights, one hotels and cottages, or rather splendid residences, rising tier above tier along its sightly slopes.

The camp meeting feature, which is still retained, was soon supplemented by an assembly course of lectures, and a summer school modeled after the well-known organization at Chantanous to which was treater.

school modeled after the well-known organization at Chautauqua, to which was later added the Bay View Reading Circle, whose branches are now found in many States. BEAR LAKE.

Special Correspondence of The Sunday Republic.

Bear Lake, Mich., Aug. 3.—This delightful resort, now generally known as Walloon Lake, eight miles southwest from Petoskey, on the G., R. & I., still retains the air of rural simplicity that is so attractive to those who seek genuine rest and recreation. Notwithstanding the suburban service that connects it by twenty-minute trains with Petoskey, it has assumed none of the metropolitan airs that distinguish most of the resorts in this section. The lake extends for a dozen miles inland, winding between rugged hills, topped with hemlock and maple, and dotted here and there with cottages and boarding-houses, not grouped around any particular resurt, but just thick enough to break the solitude. Neighboring farms supply fresh butter, eggs, milk and vegetables, and everything is rural in the extreme. Special Correspondence of The Sunday Republic extreme.

The east, or station, end of the lake is the bathing grounds of the Little Traverse resorts, and here hundreds come daily on the suburban trains to boat, swim and fish.

Several St. Louis people have cottages here, and are expected soon.

Albert G. Nulson, Mrs. Nulson and child have been at Hotel Mizer this week.

Mrs. Ploesser, who is spending the season at Petoskey, was here a few days, accompanied by her sons, Master Sterling and Chester Ploesser. Mrs. J. J. Kreher and Miss Mabel Kreher are enjoying a short outing here.

TRAVERSE CITY.

Special Correspondence of The Sunday Republic,
Traverse City, Mich., Aug. 3.—A late scason has brought the Traverse Bay resorts a smaller number of summer visitors this year than usual, and yet the charms of the Grand Traverse region present their most attractive appearance at this time. The "Peninsula," which reaches like a tongue of land twenty-five miles to the north, dividing Grand Traverse Bay into two almost equal parts, is studded with charming coves and bays, many of which have been utilized for the foundations of resorts. The entire region is a natural orchard and is famed for the excellence of its small fruits.

Chicago people are more numerous here, many resorts being peopled almost exclusively by them, yet St. Louis is well represented. The Park Place is the natural distributing point for this region, and one of the oldest and most popular resort hotels.

Among St. Louis people here are Charles L. Shewell, J. A. Libbey, C. H. Bryant, Miss M. M. Sumner, Harry M. Ohr and C. F. Beasley.

ASBURY PARK.

Special Correspondence of The Sunday Republic, Asbury Park, N. J., Aug. 3.—Founder Bradley, owner and autocrat of the Asbury Ocean Front, has for the third time this summer gone harpooning for the summer girl and her beaux. He thinks there is too much and too affectionate "spooning" even-ings on the long fishing pier, and as he has secured a special officer to patrol the pier and see that the young folks don't get too demonstrative. The girls are greatly grieved at the "founder's" action, especialy after he drove them from their rendez vous down on the sand.

Since Long Branch's big horse show, the cottagers here and at Deal, Allenhurst and Spring Lake are talking of holding an equine exhibition.

MANITOU. Special Correspondence of The Sunday Republic.

Manitou, Colo., Aug. 1.—Another gay week has rolled over the resort. The usual romance of lad and lass has had a slight variation in its personel, culminating in the announcement last Saturday night of the engagement of a dashing widow from Chicago, with an income of $20,000 per year, to a not unprepossessing man ten years her junior. The unusual part of the affair is that while both have been guests of one of the largest hotels for some three weeks their acquaintance is only a matter of ten days' standing. The fair Chicagoan is a woman of intelligence and of more than the ordinary share of grace and dignity. As if the announcement of the engagement was not enough to stagger the guests of the hotel for several weeks, the engagement of Saturday was followed by the wedding on Wednesday, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Special Correspondence of The Sunday Republic, Narragansett Pier, R. I., Aug. 1.—This has been a lively week at the Pier. The social whirl, the frills and furbelows of the seawhirl, the frills and furbelows of the sea-son are now on in real earnest, and there is a continual round of summer gaities. The advent of Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., with Mrs. Vanderbilt, in the steam launch, Mi-rage, Saturday, and the luncheon given by the Vanderbilts on the Casino plaza, set the ball arolling merrily, and there has been a series of fashionable events ever since. A part of the Vanderbilt party came over from Newport in two electric wagonettes, and when near Saundertown on the Boston Neck road one of the automobiles broke down, and the stranded automobilists were obliged to engage a farmer's cart for their transportation to Narragansett. As Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont and debonair Harry Lehr were in the party much fun was enjoyed by the belated plenickers as they rode into

were in the party much fun was enjoyed by the belated picnickers as they rode into Narragansett on an antique farm wagon, sitting on old chairs and rugs which were borrowed for the occasion.

The luncheon on the plaza was the most elaborate affair of the season, and the party presented a picturesque appearance as they gathered in groups of seven and eight beneath the little striped umbrellas on the marble plazza at Sherrys. The table decorations consisted of American beauty roses and wild ferns. Covers were laid for forty and all went merrily, while the Casino orchestra, under the direction of Adolph Schubert, played Sousa marches and the new Dorr-Schubert song, "Pleasant Dreams" to celebrate the occasion.

The subscription sale of tickets for "As You Like It" is progressing very favorably, and the managers, Doctor B. Burns and H. J. Berry, now look forward to a most successful performance of the play on the grounds of the Point Judith Country Club on the afternoon of Friday, August 10. It will be the big event of the Narragansett season.

Miss Helena Zimmerman, whose reported engagement to the Duke of Manchester has been widely published, is a guest at the Mathewson. Miss Zimmerman is one of the belies of the Pier, and is reputed to be of great wealth. However, she denies most emphatically the report of her engagement to the Duke of Manchester.

Mrs. D. A. Nense, who was formerly Mrs. E. de Lacey Wickes of St. Louis, and her niece, Miss Eugenie C. Maginnis of St. Louis, are late arrivals at the Pier, and are quartered at the Mathewson.

Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Adams of St. Louis have arrived for a stay at the Rockingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Drummona of St. Louis sailed to the Pier on Friday evening on the handsome vacht owned by Mr. Drummond, the Sapphire. On board were a party of yachtsmen and women from St. Louis and New York, including Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Burrows, John W. Kearney and F. W. Paramore. The party visited the Casino, where Mr. and Mrs. Drummond entertained at dinner on the plaza. The Sapphire presented a pretty sight as she lay at anchor just east of the Casino.

OCONOMOWOC.

Special Correspondence of The Sunday Republic.
Ocenomowoc. Wis., Aug. 3.—The first white-winged flyer to arrive for next week's great interlake yacht races on Lac la Belle is a novelty on these waters. Every part of it except the deck, ribs and beams is aluminum, making it very light in proportion to its measurements. It is 32 feet over all and 8 feet beam. It was built this season at Racine, Wis., and is entered by the Pewaukee Yacht Club. Entries to date include eleven yachts and eight clubs.
One of the smart dinner parties of the season was given last Monday at the Country Club by Miss Eleanor Kelley of Chicago. St. Louis was represented among the guests by Miss Emma Gould, Miss Mary Euston, George W. Simmons and Edwin Euston.

crulse to the coast of Maine. The presence of the ships enlivened the social world at the Pequot and Fort Griswold hotels, and the society belies watched their departure with regret.

It is unofficially stated that the entire fleet will visit this port later in the season. There is, however, hardly a week when the harbor is entirely free from the presence of one or more vessels of the navy, since the establishment of the new coaling station here. This, added to the natural advantages, is making Newport fear for its popularity as a summer resort. The torpedo boats Dahlgren and Rodgers have been in port several times this week. port several filmes this week.

AN EXCEPTION

Occasionally you will see a wife who is the mother of a halfdozen children, and still she is fair of face, graceful of carriage, and her figure is symmetrical and girlish. People will point her out as a real wonder, and say they can't understand how she bears up so well.

Where you see one such mother, you see a hundred who break down after the birth of the first child. They "go to pieces," and are nothing but living wrecks. The difference is often owing to care or lack of care during the period preceding the natural result of wedlock.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

The use of Mother's Friend, that far-famed external liniment, is nearly always the reason why some women seem never to get old or lose their shape. It is intended solely for expectant mothers. If applied regularly throughout the whole period of pregnancy, morning sickness is escaped by the patient. It has a wonderfully soothing effect on the nerves, and gives elasticity to the muscles and tissue. Labor is quickly and almost painlessly passed through. Afterward the mother's strength rallies, and she and her babe are blessed with vigor and health. This liniment is sold in drug stores for $1 a bottle. Send for a beautifully illustrated and finely printed free book on the subject.
